Seventh-day Adventist Church

"Days of Destiny" was the subject discussed by the visiting minister last Sabbath, Aug. 11. Pastor V. C. Brown, Bible instructor at the Indiana Academy at Cicero, Ind. for the past five years.

Thoughtful men and women said Pastor Brown realize the days in which we are living are days of destiny. Every generation feels the same. Oct. 1517 Martin Luther seemed to be destroying the foundations of the kingdom, In 1789 French Revolutionist apparently were undermining civilization, and in 1861 the American Union began falling apart. 1917 and 1940 world wars. Surely those were fateful days and so are these.

Our Lord was no stranger to critical times. It was a day of destiny for him when he left the obscure village of Nazareth and traveled to Judea to the river Jordon and there was baptized by John, on that day at that time, the heavens were opened, and the spirit of in the form of a dove ascended and the voice of God was hard saying "This is my beloved son in whom I am well pleased. Hear ye Him".

It was a night of destiny for the world, when Jesus crossed the brook Cedron into the garden of Gethsemane! Matt 26:36-46 John says the mob came with lanterns, torches, and sticks and Judas his disciple was leading them, but Jesus did not flee, he volunteered to die, that you and I might have eternal life.

There were days of destiny in the lives of the apostles, for Peter on the day of Pentecost, for Stephen as he boldly defended Christ before the Jews. In the life of Paul on the Damascus road and lastly Pastor Brown said the days in which we are living now are bringing us nearer the crossroads. We stand as a generation on the brink of eternity, with one accord experts in atomic physics tell us there is no defense, man has it in his power to destory the world. In these days of destiny added the pastor what shall w do?

His answer was "I want to walk with my Lord, I want his life to cover mine, I want these Christian virtues fortitude, temperance, justice, mercy, purity, and love to shine through my life in these eventful times. Probationary time is fast closing. May we make our decision today while it is day and be ready to go home with Jesus when he comes in the clouds of glory. Read St. John 14:1-3.
